NOTE: After returning home, I (Stan) received a call from Todd. He had called in at 10:30 am as planned. Apparently the conference operator required a passcode from him (which he did not have), and it took 20 minutes (including a call to Roger's office) to finally get through. By that time we had left.

I asked Todd whether he would be willing to try again outside of the meeting format. He said he would. I will put together some dates and send them to all of you and try to find a date that works for everyone. If at first you don't succeed ...

FURTHER NOTE: Roger: the travel expense you noted was in the books, but not picked up in the summary. It is in the revised report which I have attached. SY NOTE 3: I will put Todd's paper on the Compact website with these minutes.
